UNITS, DOORS & COLD STORES

Do you find that the refrigerator you have today is not enough? Do you need more cooling and storage space than a Corner Fridge or Drawer Fridge has to offer? Then a cold store with a corresponding unit and door might be the solution for you.

With a cooling unit and one of our cold store solutions, you get all the space you need for storing both food and beverages, and even a little more.

Sometimes, all it takes is a big weekly shop to see your refrigerator filled to the bursting point. And then there are all the times you need a little extra space: let the turkey thaw overnight, store trays of soda and wine. These cold store solutions can handle everything.

Choose the size that meets your needs, and customize with the desired fronts.

COOLING UNITS

Are you opting for one of our smart, large cold stores? Then you'll also need a unit.

With one of our eco-friendly and energy-efficient units you can cool down all the space you need. The units are designed for cooling food and beverages at home, and come in three different volumes. (See the models for cold rooms and wine cellars from 5,000 to 20,000 liters).

The unit is placed in the wall between the cold room and a warmer room outside, and maintains a temperature between 2-18°C. Perfect for cooling and storing all food and beverages, including wine. What more could you dream of?
